

We issue this number on Saturday, several days in advance of its date, in order that we may have time to put up our new press and get out the new Telegraph. Before the next number is issued the editor will be at Columbus. Our readers must exercise some indulgence during his absence. The publisher will do the best he can to make the Telegraph a readable and interesting sheet, and the editor will furnish letters daily, giving a distinct history of the doings of the Legislature and such other matter as his other duties will permit. This, we hope, will be a reasonable substitute for his ordinary labors, and on his return he expects to devote more time and attention to the editorial department than heretofore.

The year just opening will be one of unusual interest in the political field. A Presidential campaign, which promises to be one of the most exciting through which we have passed, is about to commence. It is the duty of the citizens to investigate the principles of the parties and the qualifications of candidates as well. And it is especially the duty of the press to discuss those matters truthfully, impartially and in the spirit of candid investigation. This shall be our honest purpose. We are not so wedded to any party as to wish its success, only so far as it represents the principles we cherish. So far, and no farther, we owe allegiance to the Republican party; and while it continues to be the representative of those principles we shall give it whatever support is in our power. The Telegraph will, therefore, support the Republican party and Republican candidate. Provided, dough facism does not find its way into the platform, or Old Fogyism on its ticket.

But the Telegraph will not be wholly occupied with politics. It will be made, so far as we are capable, a welcome visitor to every home circle in the County. And with the voluntary aid of our friends, we hope to see it placed in every reading family in the County. Send in subscriptions.

The Millennium Approaching. The last Portsmouth "Tribune" says that during the last week there were received by Canal, at the Scioto Distillery, forty-two thousand, seven hundred and twenty-seven bushels of corn. Only think of the progress in civilization, virtue and religion, which will be affected by the influence of the "spirit," when this corn is changed into blessed Whisky.

When will the people of Meigs County join their forces to those of Scioto in spiritualizing the benighted regions of the earth? There is not, we believe, a single distillery in the County, and the consequences are, that the corn raised by our farmers is wasted in making bread, or feeding dumb brutes! To see the quantities of good corn thus virtually thrown away, when it might have been converted into whisky and sold for five cents a drunk, is enough to stir the righteous soul of—

The Abolitionists of Madison County, Ky., to be Renowned. Madison county has long been cursed with a number of Abolitionists, which her citizens have determined to remove. A committee to whom this was referred made this report on Wednesday:

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this meeting, the association of J. G. Fee and others is a combination of an incendiary character, and not only at war with the best interests of this community, but destructive of all organized society; and this committee recommend to the meeting to assemble on the 17th inst., the appointment of a committee to remove the said Fee and Rogers, and so many of their associates as the peace and safety of society shall require. Another meeting is called for the 17th to take final action.—Louisville Courier.

Madison is the county in which Cassius M. Clay resides. The movement is evidently against him, although Rev. J. G. Fee, named. They have tried that game before but failed. Cassius has told them distinctly, that the first step in their progress in that county must be consecrated by murder! That until he and his friends are killed, free speech cannot be suppressed in that county.

We look for one of two events to follow these meetings: either the murder of Cassius M. Clay and his friends, or the fizzle of this Democratic movement so far as Madison county is concerned.

Christmas Tree and Supper. We have hardly time to notice the happy event alluded to in the above caption, which proved to be one of much pleasure to the company assembled, and, we hope, of much profit to the energetic ladies who got it up. The Academy Building was literally jammed, from top to bottom, with guests. The "Tree" was neatly dressed and trimmed, and abounded with innumerable specimens of handiwork and toys. As to the supper, words cannot do it justice; we will simply say it was superb, and refer our readers to the guests for a report.

The Musical Entertainment of Prof. Munson's class, on last Thursday evening, reflects great credit upon the Professor as a teacher, and upon the pupils as very apt scholars. So much attached to the Professor were the scholars, that a unanimous request of the class was extended him to continue his services another week, which he has concluded to do. The first lesson in the course will be given on (Saturday) afternoon, at the Court House.

Several matters of interest to our readers have been excluded from to-day's Telegraph in consequence of the hurry necessary to the contemplated enlargement of the paper in time for the next issue.

The chivalry have just discovered a difficulty in the way of carrying out their present programme. The Governors of several States have earnestly recommended the Legislature to put the militia on a magnificent war footing, ready to crush out the pestilent free States. Resolves have been passed with great enthusiasm, pledging complete non-intercourse with the North, and binding themselves with the powerful cords of their honor, that they will not buy, or permit to come into their States, anything manufactured in the North. This looked rather bad. But the Raleigh (N. C.) "Register" has brought them to a dead halt by the discovery and startling announcement that "there is not a single powder mill in the Union south of Delaware; nor is there a manufactory of arms, or a foundry for cannon south of Harper's Ferry."

Well, which will you do, gentlemen? Give up the fight, or buy the powder and arms of the Yankees? Take your time to consider, gentlemen! We would not, by any means, influence your choice in a matter that so vitally interests you. But we would like to know what you are going to do about it.

BOOK NOTICES. "Queen of the Monthlies." The "Ladies' Repository," devoted to Literature and Religion; Published by Swornsted & Poe, Cincinnati. Terms, two dollars per year, in advance. This Magazine has been justly styled the "Queen of the Monthlies." In pure literary style and taste it is unsurpassed, and as a vehicle of elevated moral and religious sentiment, it is of all that the most refined and fastidious could desire. The January number has been received, and fully sustains the high reputation which the work has attained. In addition to the usual variety of reading matter, the present number has three fine steel engravings: "Lion Lake—Morning," is a beautiful picture, as is also the "Shells of the Ocean." The portrait of "Rev. Alfred Griffith" is a splendid likeness of that eminent Divine, of whom there is an interesting biographical sketch. This is a work which we can sincerely recommend.

"The Ladies' Home Magazine," edited by T. S. Arthur and Virginia F. Townsend, and published by T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia, Volume Fifteen, No. One, for January, 1859, is received. There is not, in this country, a story-writer so universally read and admired as T. S. Arthur. Terms, single number, $2.00 a year in advance. Four copies for $5.00. Address T. S. Arthur & Co., 323 Walnut st., Philadelphia, Pa.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST—A PERENNIAL EVERGREEN TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER—We call the attention of our readers to the Prospectus of the "Saturday Evening Post," in our advertising columns. The "Post" is considered by many the best, as it is the oldest, of the weekly papers. For 1859, we perceive, it offers a large and beautiful steel engraving called "THE SPEAKING LIKENESS," as a premium to every subscriber. It offers also two other large steel engravings of "THE FALLS OF NIAGARA," as a premium to the gettters up of Clubs. The contributors to the "Post" are not excelled by those of any other paper. See Prospectus.

"Godey's Lady's Book," edited by Sarah J. Hale and L. A. Godey, and published by Louis A. Godey, Philadelphia, is also received. This, we believe, the oldest Magazine in the country, the January number being the commencement of the Sixtieth volume of the work. The fact that a literary work should live and flourish for thirty years under the management of the same publishers, is, of itself, a sufficient proof of the estimate in which it is held by the public. The long experience and consummate tact and literary taste of "Godey" has enabled him to add new attractions from year to year, to what was before supposed to be the utmost attainable perfection in Magazine literature. The embellishments of the work are alone worth the price of subscription. Terms, one copy $3.00. Two copies $5.00. Three copies $6.00; invariably in advance.

MORE REPUBLICANS WARNED TO LEAVE KENTUCKY—Mr. Charles Payne, who two years ago was a Republican candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District of Kentucky, came into our office yesterday and showed us a letter which he had received at Demosville, Pendleton County, giving him but twenty minutes in which to leave the place, on pain of being dealt with as the citizens might think he deserved. He stated that he intended to return to his wife and family to-day, and we have no doubt he will do so. This fact has been so often repeated that it has ceased to be effective.—Ch. Press.

For the Holidays!

Looking around for some memento to present to friends, consider that there is none so lasting and acceptable as a nice PHOTOGRAPH or AMBROTYPE. This notice is to remind all that the Art Gallery of E. F. FRICK, in Swallow's Building—entrance on Court Street—is still open, where pictures of any kind can be procured, at reasonable prices. Pomroy, Dec. 13, '59.—60-51.

John M. Ball vs. A. J. Sewell & Joel Sewell. BY virtue of a Court execution to me directed, at the old stand, on Sugar Run, I will offer for sale at the door of the Court House in Pomroy, at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 31st day of January, 1860, the following described lands and tenements to-wit: the north-west quarter of section No. 31, in town No. 3 and range 13, in the Ohio Company's Purchase, except 2 1/2 acres decreed to Andrew J. Sewell by the District Court of Athens County, at its September term, 1858, and sold as the property of Andrew J. Sewell and Joel Sewell, at the suit of John M. Ball. Appraised at $1,100. Terms of sale cash.
